"Let's Get to Work and Pay off the Mortgage"

INE years ago Canada's national debt was about one-third of a billion. It is more than the state of the state farm.

Complaint has been heard that farmers under present conditions in Canada cannot make farming pay. And yet many thousands of Canadian farmers do make it pay.

How Is It Done?

Patient and industrious "carry on" will do wonders, but something more is needed. Too often "patient industry" is coupled with "dull persistence" in poorly thought out methods.

culture has passed through low profit-making erras successfully in the past and can do so again.

With the increased cost of production, the higher standards of living now presuling cannot be maintained by poor farm suage ment, "barder" milkers, serub beeves, poor quality hogs or non-profitable hens.

The results on our Experimental Farms also bear testimony to the value of thorough, skillful work.

POOLS AND MORE POOLS.

So long as he does it on his own account, takes his own risk and pays his own loss, there will probably be little complaint in other quarters if the Western farmer sees fit to join with his neigh the Western farmer sees ritto join with his heigh-bors in a wheat "pool." Whether the object of the pool was to hold wheat until prices abroad went up, or to force up prices at home by holding relating to combines, and be answerable in the same way and to the same ex-tent as other combinations of producers or traders. That certainly should be the only basis upon which a pool would be given legal sanction. upon when a pool would be given legal sanction.

To all combines, one involving the control of an important item of the national food supply would be potentially the most dangerous, and should therefore be subject to regulation if there is to be more required and in the potentially of the potential of the potentia therefore be subject to regulation if there is to be any regulation at all.

But while it has never been illegal to create a combine they have been very unpopular. Nowhere in Canada have they been so unpopular as it has west; and among no class of Western people has the practice been so roundpy or so vigorously condensed as by the farmers. To assert with apparent reason that any class of manufactures wholesalers or merchants were in a "ring" to regulate prices or control supply has been always to some the control of the convict the accused in the minds of Western farmers of something akin to criminal comparison. The sample of the comparison of the Ruhr. The present section of the Ruhr. The condy thing they compared to control the section of the Ruhr. eient to convict the accused in the minds of Wes-tern farmers of something skin to criminal con-priracy. The assumption has been instinctive and universal that such combinations are not forms without designs upon the purses of the public. And that has been shown to be true in quite enough, asses to caplain, if it did not justify, the general

Quite evidently if the Western farmers are to form a combine of their own they will have to terracet somewhat radically their opinions as a moral propriety of such associations. They cannot logically claim the right to hold wheat off the market by connerted action and at the same time demand that the packing plants shall market their troubles as radially as these are prepared, or the vision of the same of the troubles as a radially as these are prepared to the contract of the same than the vision of the professional properties. The packing plants shall market their contractions have discussed the same of the trademan shape that of the professional properties and the professional professiona Quite evidently if the Western farmers are to ket by concerted action and at the same time demand that the packing plants shall market through the placed by clear, competition there can be no favorties under the law and can be no composition. ites under the law, and can be no complaint if any cach class plays the game to the limit that the law change allows. It would be curious, for example, to hear a member of a wheat pool formed to hold with the stress expected to the stress of the market, condemning the manufacturers of boots and shoes for restricting the supply of these the stress of the stress o in order to take advantage of the scarcity thereby caused. And it would be singularly inconsistent a for wheat growers who had themselves combined to restrict the flow of wheat to raise a protest because the manufacturers refused to "flood" market with binder twine during the months when

. delivered by use it to the limit comes into play. Granting that the motive of the wheat grower is to protect him self against what he feels to be unjust prices for what he has to buy, the outlook for the country would be a good deal better if the farmers were calling for the dissolution of the combines which canning for the dissolution of the combines which already exist, rather than proposing to form another. More competition is what is needed in Canada, not less of it. The wheat pool is a move-ment in the wrong direction. It would be better to bring pressure upon Parliament to overhaul the combines law so as to break up the "pools" which already exist, and which the farmer says are keep-ing his living expenses and cost of production so high that he cannot make ends meet.

The New York World thinks Canada is in-clined to put an embargo on pulp wood because the Fordney McCumber tariff shut our products out of the United States. It is not to "get even" in that way that the embargo has been advocated and provided for. At the same time it must be admitted that the exclusion of Canadian products from the resultia has next-radial of "come the resultial to a state of the come the resultial to the state of the come the resultial to the state of the come the resultial to the come the resulting that the come the resulting the come the resulting the come the resulting the come the resulting that the come the resulting the come the resulting that the come the resulting the come the resulting that the come the resulting the come that the come that the come the resulting that the come the come that the when the pool was to bold wheat until prices abroad wheat up to refer the United States.
